COAST BUILDINGS THAT ARE ASSETS.

TRAVELING along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, one notices among other improvements buildings that are referred to as night clubs. These are places where ladies and gentlemen assemble, partake of a meal, possibly light refreshment and frequently dance. They prove of quality rendezvous.

These resorts are conducted in the most orderly manner and prove an asset to the social and as well to the economic side of life of this section. And the more we see of these buildings the more we are inclined to class them as acquisitions.

We have noticed with more than ordinary interest and satisfaction the building of such places of business are in the main of the most attractive and substantial character and are proving not only of value in more ways than one, but essentially a contribution to the up-building of the Coast. The buildings are strictly modern, handsome and give this section an air of desirability that appeals to the better class.

We are pleased to class these 'night Clubs' as places of beauty, things of beauty and joy forever, and enchanting to the eye as well as to the mind.

The latest of these is a new one located directly opposite city of Bay St. Louis—Jack Fairchild's Beachcomber, located on Henderson Point. This is not only a building of the better kind but a place where the business is operated strictly along high class lines and where the charges are popular. We are of the opinion that buildings of this kind, attractive and substantial, and operated on the scale as indicated above, a distinctive contribution to the further success of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Ours is a strictly resort section of the country. And if developed accordingly we can expect to reap therefrom the fullest value. Our own values improve and in the end it is we who are the gainers. Hence, such first class places should be encouraged to the fullest possible extent.

OUR ANNUAL CARNIVAL EVENT.

BAY St. Louis' annual Carnival ball and court celebration is dated for Friday evening, February 21, and so well established is this institution of joy for our city that an almost unanimous anticipation marks the season prior to the date. And, while advertising or publicity call it as one will, always necessary to put over any project or enterprise, little advertising, in the comparative sense is necessary.

The Carnival season is one of joy and is general over this section of the country. The average town of this immediate section of the South, adjacent to New Orleans, without its Mardi Gras, would mean for an aching void. And Bay St. Louis is no exception. We are looking forward for the ball and the attending court's presence, the gathering of the representative citizens from Bay-Wave and to say nothing of our neighboring city of Pass Christian that pays Bay St. Louis the courtesy of attending.

The event is under the auspices of S. J. A. Mothers' Club, and the organization puts it over in highly successful manner each year. It is the one big social event of the Carnival season and the community in a measure owes a debt of gratitude to the club for the beautiful event celebration it stages.

BOY SCOUT WEEK FEBRUARY 6-13.

ANNUAL Boy Scout Week in America will take place this year February 6-13, and an intensive drive is designed for collection of funds.

This drive has been put on in this section every year and the call for funds has never gone unanswered. In fact the response has been generous and the funds sought coming forth with a willingness that is noteworthy.

Residents of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and adjacent territory will be called upon by personal representatives from the representative community. Subscriptions will be asked.

It is hardly necessary to appeal to the public. The cause is well known and judging from the past a hearty response will again be forthcoming. It has well been said that "the future of our government depends upon the character and training of our youth."

Five presidents have endorsed scouting. They are Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and F. D. Roosevelt.

You can say one thing for F. D. R., he is a glutton for accepting responsibility.

Businesses, unlike weeds, do not develop accidentally; behind every success is energy and brains.

It's about time to begin planning your Spring garden unless you have reliable and dependable neighbors.

It is better to be late than never according to the old saying, but occasionally it makes little difference.

Farmers of Hancock county represent potential customers of every business here; they deserve consideration.

Every fifteen minutes an American citizen dies in a traffic accident, but you wouldn't think this has anything to do with you.

GULF COAST HIGHWAY.

TRAVELERS from Biloxi to Henderson Point, opposite Bay St. Louis are thrilled with the completed part of the Mississippi Gulf Coast highway that is in course of construction.

This new double way highway will extend from one end of Harrison county's coastal line to the other—from Biloxi to Henderson Point. Just now much of this work is finished and in use. From Biloxi to a point far westward and from Gulfport to a point near Long Beach.

This is considered a fine piece of engineering. Roadbuilders say it is excellently planned, running from a point near the edge of the seawall one way, and parallel to the old roadway which has been reconstructed.

There is much intelligence displayed in the planning of this double highway. It means for better and safer driving and will not only attract more traffic but induce travelers from distant points to pass this way in order to view the scenic picture of the gulf waters and at the same time for use of this wonderful road.

We owe Governor Hugh White and Highway Commission under his administration for this outstanding improvement. We well remember when Governor White came to the coast and visited this section for the express purpose of investigating better road possibilities.

As a result of his visits and good will for the Coast section, he soon set in action preliminaries for this great work that is now in progress and of which a considerable portion is completed.

However, there remains much to be done, in course of progress, and we will watch this building with an interest that is all-absorbing. Gov. White always proved a great friend of the Coast, not forgetting other sections, and this great improvement, coming out of special forty-million dollar road and highway appropriation, which he fostered, is producing results to the fullest extent—dollar for dollar. This double highway is a great achievement and it is well our people are justly proud. The Mississippi Gulf Coast has many improvements, many new while others are in progress and proposed, but none is more outstanding and will mean for lasting value than this particular one.

WHERE CIVILIZATION HAS DISAPPEARED.

THE Japanese Foreign Minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, gave the United States a broad hint the other day that it might as well mind its own business lest world civilization collapse.

The eminent statesman in Tokyo seems not to understand that modern civilization has already broken down in his own capital, in Berlin and in Rome.

He talks about the United States placing its "first line of national defense" "even as far as China and the South Seas." He forgets that this country seeks nothing that belongs to any nation anywhere in the world and that it seeks only to preserve its right to trade with all peoples upon terms of equality.

This concept of modern civilization carries no meaning in Tokyo, Berlin and Rome, where aggressors plan to seize territory that belongs to nations not sufficiently armed to protect themselves. The Japanese have joined Berlin and Rome in an unholy alliance to plunder the world. At present, because they fear the power of the American republic, while engaged in other wars, they indicate a willingness to share the spoils with us, intimating that, if we are good, we may hold and plunder the western hemisphere.

No civilization worth saving could exist if the world is to become the preempted prey of four or five great nations, even if the United States is among them. No sooner than the partition is made, the thieves would fall out and seek to despoil their weaker partner and, in time, if the process went on to its logical development, there would be only one super-power. It is Mr. Hitler's idea that Germany will be that power.

FBI PAYS DIVIDENDS.

IN these days when the safety of our country is dependent on preventing sabotage and subversive activities, it is heartening to see some of the results disclosed in the report which J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI for the past sixteen years, submits annually to the Attorney General.

The current report has just been released and discloses 5,605 convictions in FBI cases during the year, or 96.46 per cent of the cases investigated. Of the 182 kidnappings since they were made, Federal violations, 180 have been solved, while the other two are under active investigation. These are but examples taken from the wide field of activity of the FBI, which should be strong deterrents to crime.

On the national defense angle, the report says: "Since the outbreak of war in Europe, there have been no acts of sabotage in our country attributable to foreign agents."

While operating on the amazingly small sum, as government expenditures go, of $7,300,000 annually, the FBI returned to the government last year $58,890,180.64 in actual fines, savings and recoveries, or $8 for every dollar spent.

THE SOUTH SUPPORTS BRITAIN.

IT is interesting that the Southern States show a greater willingness to take the gamble of a possible war resulting from aid to England than any other section of the United States.

The South, it should be recalled, did not have the moral support of the British government in the War Between the States, but by contrast, the British have the full measure of Southern support at the present time.

CAREFULLY STORE FIREARMS.

PARENTS of Hancock county should carefully place pistols, guns and other weapons out of reach of children.

Almost every day some child is killed in the United States through the handling of a firearm by another child who usually "finds it" where the parents "thought" it was safely hidden.

There are enough churches in Bay St. Louis to suit everybody; pick up one for yourself and donate it. You already belong to a church, support it and its work.

Congressional Sidelights

The Inauguration

WHEN President Roosevelt faced

several thousand American citizens on the huge platform which had been constructed in the open air immediately in front of the imposing Capitol dome on January 20th and took the oath of office for the third time, another American tradition had been broken by the man who is possibly the greatest tradition breaker who ever held sway in the White House. Incidentally another tradition was broken, at least in modern history, when the inaugural crowd was greeted by the spectacle of a bright sun resplendent in all its glory. But even though the sun was shining brightly the temperature was below freezing, and many a blanket and heavy overcoat was in evidence. It is reported that the President was somewhat disappointed in the manifestation of approval which his address received. It is true that the loud applause and cheers which greeted his two previous inaugurations was lacking. But we attribute this to the fact that the American people on this momentous occasion were solemn because of the serious implications which the inauguration carried with it. Certainly if there has been a time when the American people should be sober and view the immediate future with gravity that time is now. We wonder how many Americans who heard this address did not allow their memories to go back to a former occasion in 1918 when Woodrow Wilson was inaugurated for his second term, recalling that it was just a few months thereafter that the United States had been drawn into the war. Our own reaction to the President's address was most pleasing. It lacked the belligerency of his most recent fireside chats and address to the Congress on the State of the Union.

British Aid Bill

Aside from the passage by the House of two naval and one maritime bill authorizing the construction of additional war craft and additional Merchant Marine vessels, the time of the Congress has been given over largely to the consideration of the momentous British Aid Bill. It is true that this bill has not yet reached the floor of either House, but nevertheless the members as a whole have been and are giving most serious consideration to this most perplexing problem. The House Foreign Affairs Committee has heard a distinguished array of citizens, both in behalf of the proposed legislation and against it. It is rare that any legislative committee hears so many distinguished citizens upon a piece of pending legislation. In the past two weeks there has appeared before this normally unimportant committee of the House such distinguished citizens and officials as Secretaries Hull, Morgenthau, Stimson and Knox, General Hugh Johnson, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, retiring Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, and former Ambassador William Bullitt. Moreover, this legislation has stirred the country as no other proposal has in many a day. But of all of the witnesses who appeared Colonel Lindbergh, the hero of another day, was the only one who voiced opposition to any form of aid to Britain. Fifteen years ago the idol of the American people, he was known as the Lone Eagle. Today when much of the public has turned against him because of his pronounced views on the war question, he is still the Lone Eagle. Even though he may be in the minority so far as public opinion is concerned, the fact remains that he is still the daring, courageous and individualist person by which he was characterized in his early days. That he made a full, frank and courageous statement of his views is admitted by friend and foe alike. And it is hoped that the day will never come in America when one cannot express his conscientious, patriotic views on the vital questions affecting the future of the Republic.

That the bill will pass in a modified form is now generally conceded. The President's assurances that our ships will not be conveyed to carry these materials of war to England has materially strengthened the cause of aid to Britain.

Governor Johnson Entertained

The entire Mississippi delegation in Congress joined together in inviting Governor Johnson and his family, Lieut. Gov. Murphree and his family and their aides, to a luncheon on the occasion of their recent visit to the Capitol for the inaugural ceremonies. The luncheon was held at the Carlton Hotel. I am sure that this get-together of Mississippi's State and national officials was most gratifying to Mississippians of all political schools. It was indeed a fine thing to see all of these Mississippi officials sitting about one table, breaking the bread in harmony.

Hitler and Mussolini went into a huddle recently to talk over war matters. The conference was most likely devoted to arranging for more help for the Fascist armies in Greece and North Africa. In view of Mussolini's poor showing in these campaigns we imagine he did all the listening while Hitler talked this time.

Churchill said in an address at Glasgow, Scotland, that Britain did not need large armies from overseas in 1941, but would need far more weapons, ships and airplanes from America than England would be able to pay for.

Hollywood Echoes.

SINCE we have reported the results of other polls of the pictures of 1940, we might as well give you the results of the Film Daily's annual, "The Best Pictures" poll for the past year. Five hundred and forty six professional critics and reviewers took part in the voting, which was as follows:

"Rebecca," (391 votes); "The Grapes of Wrath," 367; "Ninotchka," 269; "Foreign Correspondence," 247; "All This and Heaven Too," 230; "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," 221; "Boom Town," 215; "Northwest Passage," 198; "Our Town," 198; and "The Mortal Storm," 172.

Several outstanding productions such as "Gone With the Wind," "Fantasia," "The Philadelphia Story," and "Night Train" were not eligible for consideration since they have not yet been released on a national scale.

The ten leaders on the Honor Roll were, according to the votes they received, "Of Mice and Men," "Pinocchio," "Edison, the Man," "Knute Rockne," "Pride and Prejudice," "Dr. Brish's Magic Bullet," "The Great McGinty," "Waterloo Bridge," "The Shop Around the Corner," and "Young Tom Edison."

While Hollywood dimes that there are such things as "luck, breaks," and that all successes in this town of filmdom are the result of hard work, there are often freak circumstances which suddenly change an unknown's status from unknown to "well known." We might mention that—

Carole Landis didn't get much attention until she had her nose changed, got a new press agent and a new contract. Joan Fontaine's fortune changed when she changed her name. Martha Scott was told that she was not photogenic until she made an outstanding name for herself on Broadway in "Our Town" and Hollywood gave her another chance. Diana Lewis had only tiny bit parts until she became Mrs. William Powell and now she's getting bigger and better roles. And, we might go on indefinitely.

Parents will probably be glad to hear that in the current Andy Hardy picture, Judge Hardy (Lewis Stone) really gets hard with Andy and gives the youngster a severe verbal trouncing. Some Hardy fans think he needed it.

Madeline Carroll has lost some excess poundage, which hasn't detracted from her appearance at all.

Between them, Mrs. Ronald Coleman ((Benita Hume) and Paulette Goddard (Mrs. Charlie Chaplain) own more than a half a million dollars' worth of gems.

Marlene Dietrich's new leading man is Bruce Cabot, who, Universal hopes, can be built up through association with such leading ladies.

IT'S TRUE! ... about GWTW... By Wiley Padan

NEW YORK, N. Y. — "IT'S TRUE! about GWTW!" — since the first showing of "Gone With the Wind" this David O. Selznick technicolor opus has broken precedents and smashed all-time motion picture box office records, says Wiley Padan. "It is the first picture ever to have an Anniversary Atlanta, Georgia on December 22, 1940. A survey shows that more than 70 percent of the audience want to see it again. GWTW has set a new box office record for repeat attendance. Perhaps one of the great reasons for this demand of the public is the assurance by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer that the picture is being most of it repetitive, the finally edited film ran to 20,300 feet. It runs three hours and forty-five minutes on the screen. Technicolor cameras were used to film the fire of Atlanta in duplicate of the actual scene of 75 years ago. Flashes 500 feet high leaped from a set that covered 40 acres. Ten pieces of fire equipment from Los Angeles fire department stood ready throughout the filming of this sequence in case the fire should get out of hand."

MOTION PICTURES OF SUGAR BOWL GAME SHOWN HERE SUNDAY.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Joseph B. David and the Midwinter Sports Association, the motion pictures of the Sugar Bowl game on January 1st in New Orleans were shown at Saint Stanislaus Sunday evening.

The students of the school, members of the Sidelines Club and their friends were given the opportunity to see these thrilling pictures. These pictures have been shown to many clubs and associations in New Orleans, and have proved most interesting to all who have seen them, even to those who witnessed the game in person.

Saint Stanislaus is very fortunate to secure the privilege of witnessing these pictures, and it owes the favor to Mr. Joseph B. David, vice president of the Midwinter Sports Association, whose son, Joseph III, is a student at Saint Stanislaus. Little Joe was the official mascot for Boston College on the day of the game.

Conviction of Abe Shushan and four other Louisiana men was affirmed by the fifth federal court at New Orleans. The men had been convicted in a lower court of using the mails to defraud and were sentenced to serve 30 months and pay fines of $2,000 each.

State Supt. J. S. Vandiver asks the schools of the state to co-operate with the veterans' organizations and the WPA in carrying out a program to celebrate State Defense Week. The governor has designated the week of Jan. 27-Feb. 1 as a week to be observed in this cause.

A Letter

My dear Miss Crawford:

As head of the English department at Bay High School I would like to express gratitude and appreciation for the very excellent assistance that the high school boys and girls receive from the county library. I feel that the entire school is greatly indebted to you and your able assistants.

I would like especially to call attention to the very valuable help that the children from Logtown are receiving from the library in their own community. Miss Jones has co-operated beautifully with the work being done in the high school. I feel that the library in that particular community fills an urgent need in the lives of those children who come such a long distance to school.

It at any time I can be of service to the library please let me know.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) BESSIE GIVENS.

SLIGHT EPIDEMIC OF INFLUENZA HITS STANISLAUS STUDENTS

For the past two weeks some names on the daily roll call in the various classes have not responded to the familiar "Here!" The cause for the failure was due to a little epidemic of the influenza which visited the campus of St. Stanislaus.

For a while it seemed that the situation would be a serious one, but through the wonderful work of Miss Boutele and Brother Romuald it was brought under control before it gained a foothold.

Students began to fill the infirmary, and at the peak, there were twenty-six in bed, but before the capacity was reached, they began to be dismissed, and few others replaced them.

The fair weather prevailing had a little to do with the preventing further inroads among the student body. Except for a day the sun shone brightly giving the germs a very good chance to thrive.

Secretary of State Walker Wood has writer's cramp there's a reason. He spent most of the day Wednesday, January 22nd signing his name 1,800 times. He signed bonds to the amount of $1,812,000, the last of the $60,000,000 bond issue passed by the 1933 legislature in the state's $100,000,000 road program.

Just what the Works Progress Administration means to Mississippi is evidenced by the way that the various departments of State Government co-operates. Here are just a few of the ways that the various departments assist in the work done by the WPA.

Vocational Training for National Defense: Through December 1940 350 WPA workers had been enrolled in Vocational schools. At the end of December 60 had qualified for ship-building work at from $40 to $50 per week. 10 vocational schools are operating in the state. This project is sponsored by the State Board of Vocational Education and Mississippi Unemployment Service.

Natural History Survey: The first Natural History Survey ever made in the state is under way, sponsored by the Mississippi State Game and Fish Commission.

Nursery Schools: Sixteen WPA Nursery schools are being operated in Jackson, Vicksburg, Greenville, Greenwood, Oxford, Winona, Kosciusko, Newton, Laurel, Hattiesburg, Biloxi, Gulfport, and Tupelo sponsored by the Department of Education.

Hot School Lunches: Nearly 3000 WPA workers are engaged in the preparation of hot school lunches to more than 70,000 children in over 620 schools. This project is a joint one sponsored by State Department of Education, State Department of Health, and State Department Public Welfare.

Recreation: 585 trained WPA workers direct the state-wide recreation programs in 75 counties of the state. This program is sponsored by the State Department of Health.

Library Service: The "WPA Library Extension Service" maintains 350 centers in the state. The state collection contains more than 20,000 volumes, and is sponsored by the Mississippi Library Commission.

Industrial Surveys: Industrial surveys are being made in sixteen Mississippi cities at the present time. Nine surveys have been completed. The Mississippi Board of Development is the sponsor of this project.

"THE WESTERNER" ROARS ONTO SCREEN AT A. & G. THEATER

Tells Flaming Story of Adventure, With Gary
Cooper As Outdoor Hero.

Against the colorful and adventure-filled background of the Old West in the days when justice was administered at the point of a gun and roistering Judge Roy Bean loomed as the "Law West of the Pecos," Samuel Goldwyn's "The Westerner," with Gary Cooper in the title role, will have a gala premiere at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Directed by William Wyler thru United Artists release and from the screen adaptation by Jo. Swerling and Niven Busch, "The Westerner" features in the cast which supports Cooper such notable players as Walter Brennan, Fred Stone, Doris Davenport, Lillian Bond, Forrest Tucker and Paul Hurst. The setting of the story is Vinegaroon, Texas in the roaring days of the '80s when there raged a bitter and long protracted battle between the cattlemen, original settlers of the land, and the homesteaders, who sought to fill the land which they homesteaded under the law.

Just when this battle is reaching a peak, the Westerner, a roving cowboy named Cole Harden, drifts into town and finds himself entangled in the vicious "Law West of the Pecos." But the Westerner is a wild, adventurous, fearless, and bold, and when he comes to grips with wily Judge Bean, he proves a shrewd opponent.

Discovering that Judge Bean's idol is the fabulous and beautiful Lily Langtry, the stranger tells the Judge that he has met the Jersey Lily and knows her well. This news intrigues the Judge and he manages to have Cole relieved until further evidence in the trumped-up case against him is brought in.

The story reaches a smash climax in the scene where the cattlemen and bean's henchmen set fire to the hundreds of homesteads and farms throughout the area. Cole realizes that the time has come for a showdown with Judge Roy Bean. He follows the weatherbeaten, grimy old man to Fort Davis where Lily Langtry is to make her long-promised visit. How Cole waylays the Judge just as the gorgeous actress is about to step before the footlights and what happens when guns are fired ending the story with swift, action-filled ending.

STATE LIBRARIES ARE ESSENTIAL UNITS IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Work—WPA Libraries Extend Usefulness Over Entire State and Serve Well.

In one of the series of six articles the American Legion studies, Department of Mississippi, in connection with state defense week, of WPA projects reports WPA libraries reach all sections of the State.

Charles E. Sims, chairman, with headquarters at Jackson, writes that from Houlika to Kosciusko, and Esyabutchie, Pontotoc, D'Iberville, and DeKalb, Forest, Duck Hill, and Union Church come the requests—more than 1200 of them in 1940—to the state office of the WPA library extension project. Sponsored by the Mississippi Library Commission, the project reaches out to the remote sections of the State, maintaining more than 350 centers where a patron may come for books, magazines, and pamphlets choosing from a constantly changing collection, asking for what he wants and needs if he doesn't see it.

When the material to fill his request is not at hand locally, it is then that the letter or card goes to the state office—more than a hundred of them in each month—and back through the mails go books, magazines, pamphlets. The state collection, which is made up of more than 20,000 volumes, is a combination of the resources of the Mississippi Library Commission and the WPA library project, and is available free of charge to any resident of the state wherever he lives.

That Mississippians are thinking about the problems of National Defense, about our international relations, and our place in the world is amply evidenced by the nature of the requests received in the past few months. Books on American history, the biographies of great Americans, books on Democracy are on the move, indicating an upsurge of patriotism and a thoughtful consideration of what we are preparing to defend.

Leading every other field is interest in our neighbors to the south. Easy material in Spanish, the history, manners, customs, art and economics of Central and South America are always in use.

Although Mississippi has felt only slightly the impact of the industrial program to arm America, requests for books on chemistry, welding, safety, and blue-print reading are frequent, and growing more so as our vocational training program begins to spread.

Since we have warned that our defeat will come principally from within, men and women throughout the state are studying our migrant workers, our race relationships, our underprivileged children, and inequalities of opportunity, reading, questioning, probing for home solutions to problems of social and economic injustice.

And so to Houlika, Kosciusko and Estabouche, Pontotoc, D'Iberville and DeKalb, and all the other towns and villages and R. F. D. routes go the books, pamphlets, the clippings, the answers to questions, helping citizens of a free nation to learn about a changing world.

In Hancock County where there was no library until the opening of the WPA library has within the year 1940 circulated and given 6028 magazines, circulated 14,524 books and enrolled more than 200 new readers. This library has become a very vital part of our defense program and the Carnegie shelf offers much to read which links us with existing conditions.

New Building For Enterprise Corner Washington And Hancock

A new building is being erected on the ground owned by Andrew Carver at the corner of Hancock and Washington streets which will shortly house a new business enterprise for Bay St. Louis.

The building will be a one-story frame structure and will be occupied by Lew Monti who will operate an up-to-date plumbing and plumbing supply establishment.

It's pretty early to be making political predictions for 1941, but we hazard a guess that one of the leading contenders for the Democratic nomination will be Wendell Willkie.

Fast bombers our first line of defense, Rickenbacker holds.

Rotarians Hear Talk From Red Cross Leader At Wednesday Luncheon.

Bay St. Louis Rotarians at their weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Reed on Wednesday enjoyed an interesting talk by Mr. J. B. Hill who is the American Red Cross field director, stationed at Camp Shelby and who spoke interestingly of the work of the American Red Cross in an army cantonment and listed a number of the types of work done and gave several examples.

Mr. Hill stated he had been very much pleased at hearing of the appointment of an executive secretary, Mrs. Dennis J. Burge, for Bay St. Louis as it was extremely helpful and so much is accomplished in a Red Cross Chapter where there is an executive secretary who can be contacted and work with a field director. Mr. Hill further stated that the army takes no interest and has no time to handle the social or personal problems of the soldiers and this where the work of the Red Cross begins as between the director in the cantonment and the local chapter, many important problems touching upon the family problems in important issues are straightened out.

Mr. Hill's talk was extremely interesting and held everyone's undivided attention and interest and many of the Rotarians came away from the meeting with a better and broader understanding of the American Red Cross.

trip to Biloxi. Friends of Mrs. Simon and children are glad to hear of their speedy recovery from the flu.

The town officials of Waveland are to be commended for the work that is being done on Railroad avenue. This road is connecting link to Nicholson avenue from Coleman avenue and an important thoroughfare. It is to be graded and hard surfaced and this improvement will be greatly appreciated by traffic toward Nicholson and Bay St. Louis especially during inclement weather when the salt spray on beach boulevard is sometimes a nuisance.

Mr. Louis S. Bourgeois now residing in Baton Rouge visited his relatives here over the week end.

Miss Lyn Arceneaux Has Radio at MSCW That Reveals Mystery.

Columbus, Miss., Jan. 23.—For days residents of Fant Hall, senior dormitory of Mississippi State College for Women have been puzzled by an unexplained non-commercial program which their radios picked up on a certain dial number. But the mystery has not been explained.

When Miss Lyn Arceneaux of Bay St. Louis purchased a record player which utilized, by remote control, the loudspeaker of her radio, she didn't realize that she was installing a broadcasting station for the entire dormitory. But, since its radius is 150 yards, that has proved to be the case. Her programs can be picked up or dialed out at will all over the hall.

Students have named the station LYN and have started a movement for a record fund, as only six records make up the complete musical library of the station. To date, neither ASCAP nor BMI has interfered with the impromptu broadcasts.

The foregoing is of double interest namely, for the unusual story it tells and for the reason Miss Arceneaux, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux, resides in Bay St. Louis, and is well and popularly known. The press telegram from the Echo is here reproduced by The Meridian (Miss.) Star.
